

Specialised Workshops

Day 1

Wednesday
1 September 2021
from 2.00–3.30pm

Belonging to the Church – is it different after Covid?

Presenter: Grace Roclawaska csfn, Head: Formation for Mission, Diocese of Parramatta

Belonging to the Church – this topic has been explored ever since Christian/Catholic communities began. What does it mean? Is belonging different in the Covid and post- Covid world? How do we connect with other people? What opportunities are there for leadership? How are we making an impact? How do we live the mission using what we learnt during our time in lockdown? How do we reach out and nurture the people's desire for staying close to Christ?

“Let us dream” – Pope Francis

Presenter: Trevor Trotter SSC, Director of St Columbans Mission Society for Oceania

Unless we have a vision/a dream, we lack motivation and direction for our mission. In his book, Let us Dream, Pope Francis shares his dream, what he sees in the world and his strategy to address the mission of the Church. His view is that the Spirit is working throughout the world and we, as missionary disciples, are invited to work alongside this God on mission. By helping participants understand and be inspired by his missionary vision, Trevor hopes that participants will come to a clearer understanding of what the Spirit is inviting them to do at this time.

Living beyond grief and trauma towards healing

Presenter: Judy Atkinson PhD, Professor Emeritus, AM

Judy will explore inter-generational healing and recovery from trauma. She will describe her approach to healing with specific reference to First Nation peoples. During the Specialised Workshop participants will develop an understanding that in order to heal, the stories behind the trauma must be heard.

A conversation with Cardinal Tagle

Presenter: Cardinal Tagle

Join Cardinal Tagle in this interactive conversation exploring the themes of his key note address focused on Fratelli Tutti, global missiology and the spirit of working with “people of goodwill” for a better world and God's Kingdom.

PRAYER IS POSSIBLE! Integrate head and heart; promote mission; lead formation

Presenter: Anne Muirhead

Prayer is the core of mission-informed formation that leads to transformation at the level of heart, the heart of an organisation and maybe even the heart of the universe. Enriching, mission-focussed gathering prayers at meetings or celebratory days have the tremendous ability to: link the unfurling story of an organisation with the macro-stories of our Judeo-Christian tradition; express and expand understanding of our values and vision, mission and ministries; affirm and empower colleagues in their unique roles; challenge us to change. This workshop will provide participants with practical examples of ways in which prayer can be scaffolded according to sound liturgical principles and, at the same time, reverberate with creativity and connectivity, even in an online environment.

Specialised Workshops

Day 1

Wednesday
1 September 2021
from 2.00–3.30pm

Leadership and our emerging future in religious life

Presenter: Gaye Lennon rsm, Institute Councillor, ISMAPNG and Meg Kahler sgs, Leadership Team, Sisters of the Good Samaritan

We acknowledge the current culturally diverse context within the global, ecclesial community and religious life. Using religious life, a microcosm, to leadership so we become, as Pope Francis expressed it, “experts in communion.” You do need to be a religious to attend! Any leader, present or future, will add value to the conversation.

Child Slavery: Are We Part of This?

Presenter: Noelene Simmons sm, President, Australian Catholic Religious Against Trafficking in Humans (ACRATH) and Christine Carolan, Executive Officer, ACRATH

The Workshop will raise awareness about the existence of Child Slavery. Participants will be exhorted to take action against child slavery and to encourage family friends and colleagues to do the same.

Leadership in the balance: providing governance and civil compliance without losing the heart

Presenter: Dr Robyn Miller, CEO of MacKillop Family Services

This Specialised Workshop will explore balancing contemporary demands and civil accountabilities for leaders of program whilst maintaining a focus on mission, values and the heart of our work. Robyn will draw on her current experience at MacKillop Family Services and the agency’s commitment to child safe standards. She will present on her PhD findings on the elements of successful reform implementation.

Prayer, conversation and decisions at the Plenary Council

Presenter: Lana Turvey-Collins, Facilitation Team, Plenary Council

This Specialised Workshop will take you through a similar process of Communal Discernment the Members will experience during the first Assembly of the Plenary Council.

“If you’re not at the table, you’re on the menu.”

Mission and Community Organising– Sydney Alliance

Presenter: David Barrow, Lead Organiser, Sydney Alliance

You are invited to a 90 minute session introducing community organising as a practice and theory for engaging in mission. We must build cooperative power to confront injustice, rebuild our faith communities and develop new leaders. When we bring active hands, relational heart and analytical heads together we can win on issues of the common good.

The Sydney Alliance brings together Catholic, Baptist, Uniting, Muslim, Jewish, union, ethnic, environment and community service organisations on issues of the common good: refugee welfare, affordable housing, renewable energy, Uluru Statement, international students and public transport.

Expect active participation, stories, fire, laughs and grit.

Specialised Workshops

Day 2

Thursday
2 September 2021
from 1.45–3.15pm

Leadership Now for Social Services

Presenter: Ursula Stephens, CEO, Australian Catholic Safeguarding Ltd

Catholic Social Services has a vision for a fairer, more inclusive Australian society that reflects and supports the dignity, equality and participation of all people. Join Ursula as she explores this vision of ensuring people are at the centre of care and how best to lead today in this critical voice of mission. Explore key issues and challenges of those in need in our community today and the practical, pragmatic, Gospel driven responses that are possible for individuals, communities, parishes and institutions.

Joining the kindness revolution

Presenter: Hugh Mackay, Social Psychologist and Researcher

“Generous, erudite, optimistic and candid...Hugh Mackay encourages us to find the best in ourselves and in our society in both good and troubled times. Following the ravages of 2020’s bushfires and pandemic on our mental and emotional health and on the economy, Hugh reflects on the challenges we faced during that year of upheaval and the questions many of us have asked. What really matters to me? Am I living the kind of life I want? What sort of society do I want us to become?” Join Hugh as he works with us in how we can restore hope, rebuild trust and inspire optimism.

Valuing LGBTIQ+ people. Inclusion of Difference

Presenters: Steff Fenton, Associate Pastor, New City Church and Peter Maher, Catholic Priest of Sydney Archdiocese, Pastoral Supervisor and Supervisor Trainer

Difference and diversity are God’s gifts throughout creation to enhance the world with beauty. Cruel and humiliating words and actions dehumanise those who are different, to justify discrimination and silencing of their stories. We will explore the weaknesses of church teaching and what has changed to better understand LGBTIQ+ realities and their stories. We will enable questions and discussion around how to include LGBTIQ+ Christians as members of the church with gifts to share, rather than broken people needing help. We believe it is time to see LGBTIQ+ for their spiritual gifts and not as members needing to be fixed.

Digital Ministry: Our church in a digital world

Presenter: Anthony Costa, Anthony Costa Media, Digital Ministry Agency

In an ever-growing digital world, community is now primarily built online, and organisations find immense growth by having an online presence. In fact, most organisations only ever find relevance by having a presence online.

Although the Catholic Church does have an incredibly strong foundation and relevance in many homes, within our very own catholic schools and communities there are thousands and potentially millions of homes where the Church has no relevance whatsoever.

Within this space, other Christian churches, religious institutions, and other communities (sometimes harmful) are reaching and influencing so many.

In this workshop you will learn about the need to embrace digital ministry, where to start and perhaps why your attempts in the past may have missed the mark.

Specialised Workshops

Day 2

Thursday
2 September 2021
from 1.45–3.15pm

Leading the Way in building bridges between believers from different religions

Presenters: Patrick McInerney SSC, Director, Columban Centre for Christian-Muslim Relations and Ryan Epondulan, Youth and Networking Coordinator, Columban Centre for Christian-Muslim Relations

In March, Pope Francis stood side-by-side in solidarity with religious leaders from the Abrahamic faiths in Iraq. In that same month, young adults from the world's religions stood side-by-side launching their interfaith charter, The Sydney Statement. We present this new rich resource as a guide for building bridges between believers from different religions. Youth PoWR invite you to take up this challenge. We invite you as Catholic Christians to engage in building mutual respect, understanding and cooperation with people from different faiths and worldviews as an integral part of the Church's evangelising mission.

Aged Care and Mission – Contemporary Challenges

Presenters: Caroline Thompson, Director of Formation, Mercy Partners and Fritha Radyk, CEO, Mercy Community

This workshop will examine some of the mission challenges faced by leaders in the aged care sector. Leadership for mission demands nurturing, creative and flexible leadership to ensure that the needs of the vulnerable in aged care are met in supportive communities of compassion, justice and faith. What does a spirituality of leadership in aged care look like? How can our aged care leaders ensure God's mission is alive in this space?

Leading Mission in a Synodal Church

Presenters: Anne Benjamin, Honorary Professor, Australian Catholic University and Charles Burford PhD, Honorary Professor, Australian Catholic University

Leadership is central to developing cultures which reflect the character and nature of an organisation's mission. Pope Francis is calling our church today to a synodal culture. To build strong cultures, leadership theory says leaders must identify and live out the core values of their mission. If we are to build synodality, we should lead in a particular way. Pope Francis sees such leadership as walking together in faith under the guidance of the Spirit to realise the Mission given to us by Jesus. Leadership research points to synodal cultures as being characterised by dialogue, respectful listening, spiritual and moral discernment, consensus, open communication and joint decision-making. The workshop is designed to help leaders build synodal cultures in their ministries through discerning and decision-making for mission.

Specialised Workshops

Day 2

Thursday
2 September 2021
from 1.45–3.15pm

Into the next 200 years - building the emerging Kingdom

Presenters: CLEM Team, Diocese of Wollongong

This Specialised Workshop will be structured in three parts:

Part 1

Will be a snapshot of the organisation, roles and work of the Catholic Life, Education and Mission Team.

Part 2

Into the next 200 years. Emerging trends and how we are responding to form and educate young people to use Catholic faith to navigate the complexity of life.

Part 3

(i) Interactive Session – Educating with a mission lens activity

(ii) Q&A with the Diocese of Wollongong CLEM Team

Governance within the Catholic Church

Presenter: Eva Skira, Professional and non-executive director and Lawrie Hallinan, Executive Officer, AMPJP

Governance and leadership of the Catholic Church in recent years has been a lightning rod for many people globally. The search for good governance has become a priority for every current and emerging leader.

For those of us who are wanting to understand how we can lead better, this session will focus on governance of emerging entities in the Catholic Church in Australia.

The session will have breakouts and small group discussions as well as live examples of current governance in the Catholic Church in Australia.

This Specialised Workshop will look at key governance principles embedded in The Light of the Southern Cross and will present a governing framework which has been developed by the peak body for Church entities sponsoring Catholic Ministries in Australia, including hospitals, schools, aged care and community services.

Interculturality: Foundational Element of Mission

Presenter: Tim Norton SVD, Director of Courses, Centro 'Ad Gentes'

Culture helps us define who we are in the world and where we belong. Almost everything we learn is done in a framework of culture. Interculturality is working towards respectful, dynamic and creative relationships between people of different ethnicities, genders, personalities and generations. This workshop will help participants think about the influence of culture in their lives, and the importance of identifying and growing their own skills for intercultural life and mission. The presenter will share some of his experiences that invite participants to dwell on their own intercultural encounters. The God of our lives calls us to mission through celebrating difference.

Specialised Workshops

Day 3

Friday

3 September 2021

from 12.00–1.30pm

Governing from hope not fear

Presenter: Robert Fitzgerald AM, NSW Aging and Disability Commissioner

This Specialised Workshop will explore what it means to govern from a positive position of hope rather than a reactive position of fear. Using his wealth of experience Robert will invite, engage and guide participants to consider together what it means to govern and lead today.

Women, leadership, mission

Presenter: Jo Kenny, Head of the Catholic Life, Education and Mission Services (CLEM), Catholic Education in the Diocese of Wollongong with panel Elizabeth Young RSM, Pastoral worker and chaplain, Erin Gillard, Coordinator for Welcome and Engagement, St Mary Mackillop Catholic Parish and Chiara Porro, Ambassador of Australia to the Holy See

A panel will converse and explore the gift of women in leadership for mission now. Pope Francis writes: "We need to create still broader opportunities for a more incisive female presence in the Church" (EG 103). What are the top tips for Leadership Now.

Emerging trends in mission in Australia

Presenter: Albano Da Costa SVD, Dorish Maru College (DMC)

This Specialised Workshop will explore, through reflection on the realities, challenges and gifts of being part of the global church, how we might be more responsive to the emerging trends and needs of building the Kingdom of God in Australia and beyond.

Providing Care for Vulnerable People and Faith-Based Organisations

Presenter: Dominic Golding, Policy Officer, National Ethnic Disability Alliance

This workshop will explore and critique the delivery of 'systems of care' by faith-based organisations. It will unpack how 'blindspots' in faith perspectives can contribute to the 'othering' of people further limiting their ability to realise their full potential. Dominic will share his own story as both a person living with a disability and from a minority ethnic background. This workshop will explore these concerns in light of the Disability Royal Commission and challenge us all to seek new models of leadership that support better outcomes for all. Dominic will invite a response from 2 guest panellists from faith-based service providers.

Dreaming a story that helps us take the seven year journey of Laudato Si' without going crazy

Presenters: Sally Neaves, Integral Ecology Animator and Mission Ministry Resource Coordinator of the ISMAPNG and Margie Abbott rsm, Igniting Sparks: McAuley Ministries

By entering into the power of creating active hope through experiential processes that will enable participants to warm up to both the pain in the world and an attitude of gratitude which clarifies our thoughts, strengthens our nervous system, and connects us with the Source that enlivens our being.

Specialised Workshops

Day 3

Friday

3 September 2021

from 12.00–1.30pm

Formation for leadership – engaging hearts and minds

Presenter: Philippa (Pip) McIroy, Group Mission Integration Manager – Formation and Ethics, Modern Slavery Project Lead, St Vincent's Health Australia

This workshop will explore examples of formative experiences for leaders working in a ministry of the Church which engage the whole self. These kinds of formation provide the individual with the opportunity to tap into a deeper level of their humanity, the inner place from which we operate, of who we really are and who we want to be as individuals, workplaces and societies.

Our Inclusion Journey – Conversations with Care

Presenters: Eric Robinson, Associate Director, Inclusion (Evangelisation Brisbane, Archdiocese of Brisbane) and Jessica Laidler, Project Office, Inclusion (Evangelisation Brisbane, Archdiocese of Brisbane)

This session will begin by explaining the journey of inclusion within the Archdiocese of Brisbane AoB), linking in the Plenary Council, and how the Inclusion Team came to be. Then we will enter into the Conversations with Care workshop, which is offered in all parishes across AoB.

Conversation with Care is a community peacebuilding workshop, which focuses on cross-cultural education, unpacking unconscious bias and building rational compassion.

Things we will cover:

- Empathy and Rational Compassion
- Unconscious Bias
- Bystander Exercise
- Cross-Cultural Education
- Community Peace Building

All that participate in this workshop will be listened to, better understood and leave with a greater understanding of the diverse society we live in, with the overall aim of becoming more Christ-like individuals and more inclusive parishes.

Real change through a referendum on an Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Voice

Presenters: Evelyn Parkin, Quandamooka woman and Dean Parkin, Director, From the Heart

Four years on from the historic Uluru Statement from the Heart, Australians from all walks of life are joining the movement for a constitutionally-guaranteed Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Voice to Parliament, as called for in the Uluru Statement from the Heart.

This workshop will inform participants about the creation of the Uluru Statement, why it calls for a Voice guaranteed by the Constitution and give a snapshot of the current status of the campaign. Most importantly, the session will provide a forum for participant questions and give clear actions people can take in support of the campaign.
